DETAILED ACTION

This Office Action is responsive to communications filed on January 29, 2001.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-2 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Edwards et al (US 6,567,932).

As shown in Figures 1-16, Edwards discloses a method for testing a network switch chip (101) having an expansion port (106) configured for transferring data according to a prescribed protocol, comprising: first outputting the data from the expansion port according to the prescribed protocol (low-level protocol); converting the data from the prescribed protocol to a prescribed network protocol (higher-level protocol; col. 8: lines 18-33); and second outputting the data according to the prescribed network protocol to a test device (103) having an interface configured for receiving the data according to the prescribed network protocol (col. 8: lines 45-49; col. 9: lines 24-30).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3-9 and 11-13 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 2661

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claims are considered allowable when reading the claims none of the references of record singly or in combination, in light of the specification, disclose or suggest the combination limitations specified in the independent claims including the first outputting step outputting the data according to the prescribed protocol using a burst type transmission; the second outputting step includes outputting the data according to the prescribed network protocol using a stream type transmission; and the buffering step includes buffering the data between the burst type transmission and the stream type transmission.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure:
